RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Norway who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Norway man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Norway resident can doubt.

S. C. Foster, barber, Main St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am only too glad to say to others I think they are the best of kidney medicines. Several years ago I had a little kidney trouble. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. P. Stone's Drug Store, and I was soon feeling all right again. I remained so for a long time, but later caught cold and my kidneys gave me trouble. I again took Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief." (Statement given July 24, 1908.)

On June 6, 1916 Mr. Foster added: "I think as well of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I first endorsed them. I use them occasionally, as I feel in need of them and I am always promptly benefited."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Foster had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SONG POEM, "AMERICA'S FLAG"

May the flag of North America
Over our land forever wave;
Reckoning the soldiers
For their country, to be brave.
May it stand for us triumphant;
May it wave from shore to shore;
Bringing peace unto all nations,
Blessed peace for every man;
Duty calls to arms, our nation,
Calls our men to fight the foe;
Husbands, fathers, sons and loved ones
All have volunteered to go.
The parting seemed most bitter
As we watched them from our night,
We were proud that they were soldiers,
Marching 'neath the stars and stripes.

CHORUS
Starry flag so emblematic,
Stars and stripes of dear old glory
In that land-so far away,
May you help to win the victory,
May your colors never die,
May all nations love and bless thee,
Bring peace unto all nations,
There are flags of many nations,
There are flags of every hue,
But the one that we cherish
Is the flag of the blue;
How we love our country's emblem,
This enshrined within our hearts,
As each soldier's heart, soldier
Surely now, will do his part.
We have sworn our duty,
Keep our flag within our sight;
Ever ready to defend it,
We will not let our country
That we, too, may all be heroes,
Till this conflict, fierce, is o'er,
When our hearts are war-music borne,
May they bring the flag they bore.
Other nations bear their banners,
But the flag for me and you,
And they bear them proudly, too,
That is what they ought to do;
But the flag for me and you,
Neath those foreign skies, so blue,
Is our starry, spangled banner,
That the flag for me and you,
There it stands in all its splendor,
Far beyond the misty seas;
Side by side, with our banners,
Gently swaying in the breeze;
Is the flag of our nation,
God protect and keep "Old Glory!"
All through this coming year,
West Paris, Me., R. P. D. 1.

OUR BOYS
Oh, boys in khaki, strong and brave,
Who heed your country's call to save,
Who from our homes have heard the call
To fight for us in all our wars.
We bid God speed to all that's right,
And pray He'll guide you with His might;
Though and our hearts are war-music borne,
From tyrants power, oh, set us free.

CHORUS
For mother's heart is warm and true
And mother's love is strong for you,
For country and for freedom fight,
May you stand firm for truth and right.
The whole world turns its eyes on you
To see if you will stand as true,
You'll make good soldiers as you'll find,
You'll prove that Uncle Sam can send
Troops to the end of the world,
Troops that for virtue pure stand,
In God we trust, so cleanse the land.

The bloody crimes we read with awe,
The fiendish acts in cruel wars,
That these innocent boys must fight,
The time upon our earth began,
Then crush the power of tyrants' arms
That all these innocents do harm,
And pray He'll guide you with His might;
Though and our hearts are war-music borne,
From tyrants power, oh, set us free.

CHORUS
For mother's heart is warm and true
And mother's love is strong for you,
For country and for freedom fight,
May you stand firm for truth and right.
The whole world turns its eyes on you
To see if you will stand as true,
You'll make good soldiers as you'll find,
You'll prove that Uncle Sam can send

Catarthral Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarthral deafness, and that is by using a remedy. Catarthral Deafness is caused by a running sound from the middle of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation is removed, the hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarthral deafness, which is caused by a running sound from the middle of the Eustachian Tube. The blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarthral Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarthral Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists.

The CORRECT TREATMENT FOR COLDS

Colds are contracted when strength is lowered and the inflammation easily develops bronchitis or lung trouble, while grippe and pneumonia frequently follow and any cold should have immediate treatment with which first builds up the forces by carrying rich nourishment to the blood streams and creates real body warmth. Its cod liver oil is the favorite of physicians for correcting bronchial disorders and chest troubles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The National Strength-Builder

The imported Norwegian cod liver oil always used in Scott's Emulsion is now refined in our own American laboratories which guarantees it free from impurities.

Anything Looking Like Coal
"Coal will be precious stuff at any price!"
Our supply, 25 tons, cost $10.50 per short ton in the cellar last June. It was bought of John Cullinan who said it was a different grade of fuel than the year before, but good free burning, soft coal, and the best he was able to get.
After four weeks of painstaking trials, Pat Cummings says the coal is a little better than drifting snow and crushed cinders for heating purposes. He supports the assertion by producing shale, which resembles coal, only in color and burns as freely as stubblecocks.
Pat wants to know what he is to do and is told he must make it burn, as anything that looks like coal is precious.
Wood is bringing from $8.50 to $11 per cord.
In June 1916 good burning soft coal cost $6.25, but then we were not in war.

Harry Rust W. R. C. No. 45, held their regular meeting Thursday evening at Woodman Hall, and the annual election of officers took place, with result as follows:
Pres.—Mrs. Jennie Richardson.
Senior Vice Pres.—Mrs. Annie Beck.
Junior Vice Pres.—Mrs. Ora Harlow.
Treas.—Mrs. Clara Harlow.
Chaplain—Mrs. Addie Russell.
Conductor—Mrs. Evelyn Young.
Guard—Mrs. Helen Garvel.
Delegates were appointed to the Convention, which is held in Bangor in June; Carrie Tucker, Mrs. Edith Edwards. Alternates, Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, and Mrs. Evelyn Young. Installation will take place at the first meeting in January, Thursday evening, the 3d.

An over ambitious customer pushed himself through the large glass pane in Drake's store door, Ward 8, Monday evening. The boarded up door was responsible for many queries.
Pennesseewassee Lodge, K. of P., will work the rank of esquire on one candidate this Thursday evening.
Elmer Aldrich returned recently from Upton with a twelve point buck weighing better than 250 pounds, the largest deer brought to town this season.
The Baptist Society are planning to have exercises and a tree at the church Christmas afternoon. On the Sunday preceding an appropriate sermon and special music will be given.
Mrs. William Stone is having serious trouble with her foot, which started from a fallen arch some time since. Mrs. Augustus Everett is assisting with the housework.
Mrs. Archie Gurney entertained the members of the Home Department of the Baptist church on the afternoon of Dec. 8th.
Mr. and Mrs. Levi Holden of Sodom are visiting their son, Harry Holden, at South Paris. They may remain several months.

Mrs. Eunice Watson is stopping for the present with her sister, Mrs. George Ames, on Cottage street.
Hugh McKay has returned from Auburn, where he has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Walter Abbott and family.
Marion L. Bussell, daughter of Harry Bussell of Beech Hill, Auburn, and a graduate of Bellevue hospital, New York, has been given charge of a male ward containing 26 beds and one private room in that institution. She has under her charge two female nurses and one male nurse, a cook, a ward maid and ward man. Her father worked in the B. F. Spinney & Co. shoe factory some twenty-three years ago and her mother, who was Julia Bumpus of Oxford, was also employed in the village. Mrs. Bussell died five years ago with burns received from a lamp.
Florence Scothorne of Norway, who is a graduate at nursing from Maine General Hospital in the spring, sailed from Portland for Halifax Saturday afternoon with the company of volunteers, who generously offered their services at the first call. The family have relatives in that vicinity over which they are greatly concerned for their safety.
Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Merrill of Augusta were in town recently as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Merrill, Pleasant street.
Edward S. Baribant of Lewiston, commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, has appointed J. Waldo Nash as Dept. Council of Administration and aid on the Dept. Commander's staff. Horace H. Cole is district inspector. Both are from Norway and members of Camp Bartlett No. 8.

Charles E. Bradford, proprietor of the Norway Laundry, who was snow bound with a Ford truck and a deer somewhere between this town and Hastings, reached home safely. As a result of this delay, Charles landed another deer with twelve points, estimated to weigh 225 pounds.
Donald Stevens of Auburn was the Sunday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens.

Cobblers' Club Fifty-three Years Old
Next Monday is the 53rd anniversary of the organization of the well known Cobblers' Club of Norway and Clarence M. Smith, the sole survivor of that first assembly will open the club room on that day as has been his custom for many years and revive pleasant memories of events which can never be repeated.
The Club was organized Dec. 17, 1864 in the attic of Benson Hawkins building situated on the corner of Main and Danforth streets near the present Henry Favor harness store. Hawkins carried on a cobbling and shoe business on the first floor, with Tucker's harness shop above. It was in the cobbler shop that many gathered for the exchange of gossip, among the regulars were James Danforth, Fred Crockett, George Howe, an engineer on the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Ry., and Clarence Smith. These were the four charter members who upheld the dignity of the club during its infancy. In a short time the total membership numbered eight which has been the limit.

This club room soon became the headquarters of the Pennesseewassee baseball team that was cleaning up everything in the state and proved a great sporting center.
When the organization was incorporated they put up the present building on a small lot on Danforth street, later they secured a piece of land from Dr. Danforth and moved the small building to the spot where it now rests, selling the remainder of the lot minus the right of way from Danforth street to the shoe factory to Morrill Fuller's.

The present membership includes six names, only business meetings are held to retain the organization. Clarence M. Smith is president, in fact has held that office since the beginning. Lewis J. Brooks is secretary and treasurer.
This club has lived not wholly to itself during the last half century, for it beget the Camp Cinnamon Club in 1876, so named because the carpenter-members who erected the camp at Northwest Norway were sent off to work on the Cinnamon Club organized in 1880 was also a child of the Cobblers' attic gathering. Clarence Smith is the last original member of this club, and with Capt. W. W. Whitmarsh, can claim the same honors regarding the Bass Island organization.
The three organizations are still in a flourishing condition, but younger men have taken the place of the early pillars who faithfully performed their duties and thoroughly enjoyed social privileges almost unknown in this generation.

Red Cross Chapter Applied For
Miss Stella B. Prince was in Rumford, Monday, when a meeting of representatives of the Red Cross Auxiliaries of Oxford County was held. The meeting was called to talk over the organizing of a chapter in Oxford County. It was talked of having two chapters in the County, one at Rumford and the other at Norway, but when put to a vote it was unanimous in favor of having one chapter for the county, to be located at Norway and also voted to instruct Miss Prince to apply for the chapter which she did Tuesday.
During the past year Norway has maintained an Auxiliary at large, but with the organizing of the chapter the auxiliary will merge into the organization.
The Norway Chapter will have charge of all the Red Cross work for Oxford County.

The work of gaining new members was also talked over and during the Christmas drive for new members Oxford County's share is 5700 new members.

Stray cattle and wood choppers wanted. Also a peddle of oil and a table girl. See Intelligence Column.

Ralph W. E. Hunt of Portland, State Vice President of the Y. P. C. U. will speak to the young people of the Universalist church Sunday evening, Dec. 16, at 7 o'clock.

At a special meeting of Oxford Chapter, R. A. M., Friday evening, Dec. 7, there was work in the M. M. M. degree, and the officers for the coming year were installed by Past Grand Scribe Charles F. Ridlon as follows:
P. M.—Raymond H. Eastman.
K. E.—Harvey E. Powers.
S.—Fred B. Smith.
Past.—E. F. Bicknell.
Sec.—Charles F. Ridlon.
H.—John S. Bassett.
P. H.—John S. Bassett.
R. A. O.—W. S. Cordwell.
M. V.—Arthur W. Easton.
M. 2 V.—Arthur W. Easton.
M. 1 V.—Harry W. Kimball.
L. E.—L. E. Gilbert.
S. S.—Ernest J. Record.
J. S.—Fred M. Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herrick of Fair street went to Portland, Saturday, returning Sunday forenoon, to consult an oculist, as Mr. Herrick's eye, which was injured two years ago has been causing trouble at times. They also visited their son, Merton, member of the Maine Medical Corp at Fort Preble.

Oxford Pomona Grange meets with Norway Grange Tuesday, Jan. 1, 1918.
Shaw and True have been engaged by the Norway High School to furnish music for dancing after each game during the season.
Chief Electrician, F. S. Stuart of the U. S. navy, was in town, Friday, talking up enlistment in that branch with several young men. Stuart is a Maine boy and enlisted in the navy from Bangor at the outbreak of the Spanish American war.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Bicknell and Gretchen Eisenwinter plan to start for Waterbury, Conn., Saturday morning for a two weeks visit with their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Eisenwinter and family.

Fred Davis, Frank Knapp and Mrs. Frank Richardson furnished music for the dance in South Paris grange hall, Saturday night. About 50 couples were present which was a large attendance considering the storm. Some 20 people went over from Norway and experienced trouble getting home as the electricians gave up running before midnight. Sleights were procured, but many walked.

FATE OF ONE FLAG
The stars and stripes were far and wide, in no time and no country side; By cottage small, or mansion fair, The stars and stripes are floating there. Some are made of fine silk, Some are made of a patchwork quilt; Some are made of stout and strong, On purpose to withstand the storm. One day last spring I was walking about, I saw a new flag was being put out. I told that the owner was loyal and true By hanging his colors—the red, white and blue. How pretty it looked with colors so bright, Even the staff was all painted white; It shook out in folds at the very first chance, With each passing breeze it merrily danced. All summer it waved through sunshine and storm, Until its bright colors are faded and gone, While even the stripes all hang in a rag. Now only the stars are left on the flag. It makes us all feel lonesome and sad. To think of the fate of that dear old flag, Born in the spring, to decay in the fall, The fate of that flag, is the fate of us all. Aunt Nellie.

HARRISON

Wyongonic Club
The Wyongonic Club met at the home of Mrs. Mercey and Mrs. Mary Gray on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5th, with the following program:
Roll Call, Recessional, Recipes.....
Business.....
Paper, Rubber, from the tree to the overshoe
Reading, The Quilt of Happiness.....
The next meeting on Dec. 19th, will be with Mrs. Mary Sylvester on Main street. Theodore Glover, who works at Sebago, is spending the week in town.

A number of new books have been placed in the library. Mrs. Annah Whitcomb is librarian this month.
Mrs. W. C. Guitard has so far recovered from her recent illness as to be about the house again. Her nurse, Miss Wedge, left Monday.

Mrs. Mary Walker has returned from New Hampshire and is moving into the upstairs room in C. C. Dougherty's house on Main street.

Ida Whitney of Bridgton is working at Oscar Kneeland's.

The Free Baptist church has been beautifully equipped with electric lights of the cheapest and best description. This addition to the auditorium is the gift of one of Harrison's summer residents, Harry Melosh, a lawyer of Jersey City, N. J., and is greatly appreciated by the society.

Mar. Georgia Jordan has moved to Hiram, which was her girlhood home. Mrs. Jordan has resided in Harrison for over 30 years and will be greatly missed, but our loss will surely be Hiram's gain.

LOVELL

Letter from Milo McAllister
Washington, D. C., Nov. 23, 1917.

Dear parents:

This is one great day and we have had some time today.

The fifteen of us Maine boys were transferred to the First Vermont Co. and they are fine boys. We started from the camp, Wednesday night about ten o'clock and marched out to the train. We had to wait until about five before they let us go on our train. We left Westfield about 8:30 Thursday morning and got into New York about ten that night. We stayed there a while and got into Washington this morning, Friday, at 6:30 and now it is 11:50. We expect to leave soon. This forenoon we all left the train, 12 cars of us, and marched up and went all through the Capitol building, some place, then we went all over the city and came back to dinner. If nothing happens we will be in North Carolina about tomorrow night sometime.

It is some job to think of anything to write, so will have to close for this time. I will write when we get down there. I think this is our address, send my mail there anyway.

Milo E. McAllister
Camp 1st Vermont Inf., Med. Corps.

Mrs. Kate Williams, who has been visiting in Boston has returned home.

George Stearns shot two nice deer, while at home on his vacation.

Mrs. Chas. Merrill, also Mrs. Nathaniel Fox, are ill with the mumps.

Herbert McKeen is very busy swamping his roads and getting ready for logging.

The Suncook Grange had work in the first and second degree, Friday evening.

James Vance has been at home from Plattsburg on a short visit, we understand he has the honor of second lieutenant.

William Vance, who is attending school in Massachusetts, was home last week.

Slab City

Mrs. Frank McAllister and family of Norway visited her sister, Mrs. Orrington Rowe, recently.

S. F. Kimball spent Thanksgiving at George Whitehouse's.

Sidney Hatch got a nice doe deer one day the past week.

Herbert McAllister is working for N. T. Fox at Lovell village.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and little son, Walston, spent Thanksgiving at Mr. Andrews' parents at North Lovell.

V. L. Harriman killed a nice hog the past week.

Frank McAllister of East Stoneham spent Thanksgiving with his daughter, Mrs. Bert Kendall.

H. S. McAllister and family attended the dance at North Lovell, Thanksgiving.

OXFORD

The snow storm of Saturday night made road breaking necessary Sunday.

Two of the Otisfield teachers, Misses Kneeland and Philbrick, visited the village schools, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Perkins took their little son, Donald, to the C. M. G. hospital in Lewiston Saturday, where an operation for adenoids was performed.

Mildred Poole is staying with Mrs. George H. Jones and attending high school.

The ladies of the M. E. Circle plan to give a supper at the vestry, Friday evening, Dec. 14.

There are several cases of whooping cough among the pupils of the primary school.

Preparations are being made by the students of the high school for an entertainment to be given on the afternoon of Dec. 21st. Parents and friends of the school are invited to attend.

Some of the girls of the high school are hemming bandages for the Red Cross. This work is done during the noon hour by those girls who live outside the village and who eat their lunch at the school-house.

George Houghton has been suffering from an attack of asthma.

Principal Parmenter of the high school spent the Thanksgiving recess at his home in Portland.

Mrs. Linnell was in Lewiston, Saturday.

Elmer Millett is hauling wood for Wm. Faunce. Fuel is scarce and high. A few of the men employed in the mill are chopping wood Saturday afternoons and holidays at the halves, we understand.

FORE STREET

Al and Leon Twitchell returned from Upton where they have enjoyed a week's outing.

A. D. Cummings is at Andover for a week's deer hunting. Master Gregg of Good Will Farm is helping with the farm work.

Mrs. Catherine Carlton has been with her granddaughter this week, Mrs. Al O. Twitchell.

Fore street is a busy place this winter as there are many teams hauling lumber to Norway village from the O. A. Lovering place, and the H. D. Smith place.

Daisy Baker's Mother Says

Cut Your Bread Cost by Baking at Home

Bread is so cheap and wholesome that it is the best kind of economy to eat lots of it. Cut the high cost of living by eating more bread and cut it still more by baking in your own home.

You can make your own bread for less than 3 cents a loaf—and that includes every expense, materials, fuel and time. It means practically two loaves for the price of one—twice as much for same cost—or the same quantity of food at one-half the cost.

—and, besides saving money, you'll have better bread.

With the right flour, home-baking is easy. My choice is William Tell, and I use it for everything. It's made in Ohio—right in the Miami Valley, where the rich limestone soil gives it a delicious flavor and wonderful baking qualities. It takes the ache out of bake and puts the flavor in.

Use WILLIAM TELL Flour

It is guaranteed under the Ohio Better Flour Label, by the United & Burr Company who make it, and by the grocer who sells it. It comes to you with a triple guarantee.

NORTH WATERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Garcelon and son Charlie and wife stopped at the Forest House on Thursday night.

Fannie A. Hersey, a student of Castine Normal School, is at home for a three weeks' visit.

There are several cases of whooping cough in this place.

C. A. Garcelon and wife called on Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso Charles on Friday last, on their way to Portland and plan to motor South.

Leon Bisbee was at the Forest House over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles York have been stopping with their daughter, Mrs. Winfred Knight, the past week, and visiting their many friends in this place.

Mrs. Charles Cheever who has been spending the past three weeks with her son in New York, is expected home on Wednesday of this week.

Robert Kimball, who has been very sick with the measles, is improving.

F. Leon Bisbee spent Thanksgiving week in Limerick, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lord.

John Grover and family have moved into the Decker House in Lovell for the winter as he is engaged in hauling hard wood to Harrison.

T. C. Morrill visited the schools in this place on Wednesday.

The Grange had a supper and Poverty Ball Saturday night, all reported a fine time.

John Grover had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week.

Rice Neighborhood
Charles Hersey and Charles Saunders have been threshing beans with Frank Morse's bean thresher.

Mrs. Charles Saunders took Elizabeth back to her school at North Bridgton on Tuesday and then spent the day in Harrison at Will Grover's.

Mrs. Horace Gardner and children, who have been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. George H. Rice, returned to her home at South Waterford on Wednesday.

Burnham Rice, shot a deer the other day, when returning from a visit to his old home here.

Robert Kimball is gaining slowly and has set up in bed for a short time.

Albany Line
Charles Marston and wife went to Lovell last week to visit Mrs. Marston's daughter, Mrs. Sidney Hatch, who is very ill. Mr. Marston went hunting, while there with Mr. Hatch.

Wm. Fisk and wife went to Norway Saturday shopping. Mr. Fisk carried a cow and calf he sold George Kimball last week and brought home thirty-eight bags of grain that cost him more than one hundred dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles York of Andover formerly of this place have been visiting relatives and friends since Thanksgiving in this vicinity. They spent Thanksgiving with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Knight of North Waterford. They spent one night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord, once their nearest neighbors.

Ernest Hazeltine, who has been ill with a cold for some time, is now suffering with erysipelas in his face. Charles Marston is doing his chores.

Walter Lord bought two beef cows of Wallace Cummings, Saturday. The community was shocked and grieved to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Melville Bartlett of East Stoneham. She had been a great sufferer for many weeks, but was seemingly better the past two days. She passed away Monday, the 10th at 6 A. M. She was a beautiful girl, and woman, in every sense of the word, and one beloved by all who knew her.

Ernest Brown is hauling pulpwood to Bethel.

John McAllister breaks the roads in the Dresser District and E. K. Shedd in Bisbee town and good roads we have.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward, who live by Pappoose Pond, received a telegram last week saying their son, Howard, was dead. He was killed in a granite mill in Massachusetts by his clothes being caught in the machinery. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are held in high esteem by all of the townspeople. Mr. Ward is a retired florist from Massachusetts who has built a beautiful cottage on the shore of Pappoose Pond, where they reside the year round.

Chandler Merrill has bought a horse of Elmer Henley and is hauling wood.

Horace Green was the happy recipient of a beautiful pair of skis, presented to him by his uncle, Wm. Fisk. Nearly all of the children in town are enjoying skiing this winter.

Herbert Brown has been visiting his brother, Ernest, and other relatives in this and the town of Stoneham.

Frank McAllister and son of Stoneham were in town last week looking for stock.

Will McAllister's children have the whooping cough. It is very hard for them as they have quite a family of small children.

SOUTH HARRISON

Winnifred McAuliffe, the nurse, who has been taking care of Frank Trafton several months, spent Thanksgiving week at her home in Casco.

Jesse Holden and wife welcomed a young son to the home, Nov. 22nd, named Kenneth Linwood.

Mrs. Isabel Garvin and two daughters, Maryland and Velda of Salmon Falls, N. H., spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Clara Spaulding and her uncles, the Lakin Brothers.

Capt. Percy Buck has been home from Fort Niagara on a week's furlough. He is to report at Washington state Dec. 15.

Letters have been received from Corp. Benj. Leighton. He is in France, 101st Regiment of Engineers, Co. E.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Greene and Helena Burnham spent Thanksgiving at B. W. Harmon's. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Randall at Frank Trafton's and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Libby at Henry Leighton's.

Alonso Knights of Edes Falls, son of Mrs. Benj. Knights and Bertha Chaplin of Naples, daughter of Albert Chaplin, were married Nov. 29th. They have the best wishes of their many friends.

Chas. Pendexter had the good luck to get a deer, Nov. 30th.

Sidney Johnson of Bridgton broke his arm recently, cranking his automobile.

Josiah Stone Lakin

On Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at the home of his son, Edgerton, in Palo Alto, Cal., occurred the death of Josiah S. Lakin, one of the most highly respected pioneers of Palo Alto.

Mr. Lakin was born at South Harrison, Aug. 28th, 1852, and was 65 years old. He went to California in 1871 at the age of 19 and engaged in mining at Iowa Hill in Placer County. On Nov. 15th, 1884, he married Mary Drew at Fresno, a sister of A. M. Drew, who has represented his county in the legislature for many years. Two of their three children survive the father, a son, Edgerton Drew Lakin, who is now the city police judge and a local attorney, and a daughter, Ruth, at Stanford University.

One daughter, Jessie, died several years ago.

After a period of residence in Sacramento, the Lakins moved to Salt Lake City, where Mr. Lakin engaged in mining. He developed and later sold the Sacramento mine. He was one of the first mining men in this country to apply the cyanide process for extracting gold from quartz.

Seventeen years ago the family moved to Palo Alto, where Mr. Lakin immediately took an active part in the affairs of the city. He was one of the trustees who built the Carnegie Library and served as a member of the board of education during a critical period of the city's history.

He served as a director of the First National Bank for some time. He was very active in buying and selling real estate and in this way handled much of the land in both Palo Alto and Los Angeles. The family have been actively identified with the First Methodist Church of Palo Alto.

Mr. Lakin was the first to die in a family of eight children. His mother, Mrs. Isabel Lakin of South Harrison, only recently died at the age of 84 years.

Besides his immediate family he leaves four brothers, Ezekiel of Cunningham, Kansas, James, George and Bradford, all three sisters, Mrs. John Wentworth, Mrs. Clara Spaulding and Mrs. Annie Stevens, all of Harrison, to mourn the loss of a kind and loving brother. The cause of his death was cerebral hemorrhage, which gradually brought paralysis. He has been in failing health for about two years.

The funeral was held Saturday at 2 p. m., at the Masonic Temple. The Odd Fellows lodge conducted the services and interment was at Alta Mesa.

Mr. Lakin will be long remembered for the quiet gentility of his character and the sterling worth of his accomplishments. In citizenship he contributed substantially to the progress of the community in which he has lived and his example has been an inspiration to those who knew him. He will have a place of honor and distinction in the pages of local history when the story of Palo Alto is told.

Blankets and Robes

Present market conditions indicate that an advance in price is not unlikely for all grades of stable and street blankets and robes. Jobbers stocks are reported to be unusually low and on many leading styles they are entirely sold out. This means a scarcity when retailers present stocks are exhausted, as it will be hard to get the desirable styles.

We have an unusually full stock of stable blankets in burlaps and ducks and in all the different styles of fasteners and surcingle. Prices on these goods are very low, considering their scarcity and the difficulty of getting them. Duck storm blankets in medium and large sizes.

A fine assortment of street blankets, of the best colors, in stripes, plaids and Indian weaves, ranging in price from $1.50 up to $6, $7 and $8 each. Many of these are in beautiful colors and well worth your examination.

Carriage and auto robes in plush, leather and heavy warm woollens. Saskatchewan buffalo robes, the warmest and most durable of carriage robes.

FRYEBURG CENTER AND MEMORIAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goldthwaite and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dennett enjoyed Thanksgiving with Frank Knox and family. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiley spent the day, Thursday, with Mrs. Wiley's parents, there being 24 children and grandchildren present to enjoy the Thanksgiving feast. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kenerson had all their family with them for the day, and also Fred Pitts.

Grange Election
Despite the very stormy day Saturday, Dec. 1st, there was an attendance of 40 at the grange meeting. In the forenoon two candidates were instructed in the 3d and 4th degrees, this was followed by a recess for dinner, after which the officers consisting of baked beans, brown bread, pickles, white bread with some pastry, also coffee was served. At the conclusion of recess the grange was again called to order and the following officers elected for the year 1918:

Master—Edith F. Charles.
Overseer—Leo Bell.
Lecturer—Josephine Dennett.
Steward—Alvin Smart.
Asst. Steward—Arthur Wiley.
Chaplain—Anders Smart.
Treas.—Wm. Howard.
Sec.—Mills Hutchins.
Gate Keeper—Charles Monk.
Cores—Oliver L. Goldthwaite.
Pomona—Lucy Hutchins.
Flores—Christine Bell.
Lady Asst. Steward—Dorothy Wiley.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK
Mrs. Julia Russell is in very poor health. Alanson Cummings of the Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I., was home for a few days recently. E. R. Andrews, Mrs. Cora Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. O. Perham, Mildred Perham and Ellis Davis were among those who attended Pomona at South Paris.

Great Success
The sale and entertainment at the church Saturday evening, Dec. 1st, was a great success, about $35.00 were taken. The quilt was drawn by Elmer Hammon and the silk donor by Mrs. Frank Davis which was sold by guessing the number of seeds in a pumpkin which had 455 seeds, and Mrs. Davis guessed 450.

The "Goose Booch" did a flourishing business, taking $4.20. The food table over $10.00. The entertainment went off well. Nellie Tracy, showing the "family album" in a very pleasing manner. The pantomime with F. R. Andrews as lead-pantomime with a good deal of merit. The proceeds with the funds that have been solicited, will nearly pay for shingling the church.

Zadie Walker and Fred Barret were in Portland for the week end recently. Lydia Ross kept house for A. M. Andrews while they were away.

Fred Hendrickson's family have been having the mumps.

Edith Stevens of North Paris was a guest at F. R. Andrews' one day recently.

The Union School closed Friday, Nov. 30, for two weeks' vacation. Miss Tracy returned to her home in Peru.

A. R. Hendrickson has purchased a yoke of steers of O. W. Robbins.

G. W. Davis has been hatching, he killed a hog and beef creature for himself and a pig for W. P. Andrews.

Mrs. Mary Andrews, who fell down stairs a few weeks ago fractured two ribs. A. T. Silver and Charles Swinton returned from North Andover with three large deer.

O. W. Robbins is having a serious time with rheumatism in his shoulder and arm. Mildred Perham is at home from her school in Readfield for a two weeks' vacation.

WORLD-WIDE CHORUS ON CHRISTMAS SUGGESTED

At 9 o'clock Christmas morning Americans, wherever they may be, should join in singing My Country 'Tis of Thee. At home or on the outskirts of civilization in the training camps, in the trenches, Americans everywhere—men, women and children—to join in a patriotic chorus which shall sing itself around the world. That is the suggestion advanced by the Etude, a monthly musical journal.

No formal organization is proposed. The plan costs nothing, the proposer points, and interferes with nothing. It is asked merely that clocks shall be watched Christmas morning, and at 9 o'clock Americans shall be sung—a solo if you are alone; in family groups, in churches or wherever two or more are assembled. In addition it is proposed that church bells shall be rung for five minutes, as an accompaniment of the world-wide chorus.

As a means of advertising the plan, the following suggestions are advanced: First of all—talk about it. Talk about it to everyone you meet. Tell them to watch the clock on Christmas morning, and at 9 o'clock to sing My Country 'Tis of Thee. Tell them that they are members of the great chorus of Christmas cheer that is singing itself around the world to bring together on this Christmas the minds and hearts of all Americans. Tell them it is to give courage and confidence to our boys "over there" and joy and pride and comfort to the souls of all who stay at home.

See the school teachers and the local boards as well as all the clubs in your neighborhood and ask them to make announcements.

Have a talk with your clergyman. His enthusiasm will be invaluable. Ask him to have the church bell rung for five minutes on Christmas morning at 9 o'clock. In every letter you will write, whether to a soldier at the front or to an acquaintance, take a few lines to them that you will be with them in the spirit of our American Christmas at 9 o'clock on Christmas morning.

Do it yourself. Waiting for someone else to do it means that it may not get done. Wake up in the morning thinking about it and do not go to rest until you have done something toward it.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-three Years Ago This Week
J. O. Crooker says he has been in business in town over 30 years and that there is not another man in the retail trade of the street now, who was then in business.

Judge C. F. Whitman has tried 399 criminal cases during his judgeship of the Norway Municipal Court. As his term does not expire for several days possibly he may make it an even 400.

H. G. Davis of Paris has been appointed judge of the Norway Municipal Court. Merritt sold the building on Dr. B. F. Bradbury's lot he has occupied this summer as a store, at auction, Monday afternoon to H. L. Horne for $72.

Mrs. V. W. Hills moved to her new millinery store in the Opera Block, Tuesday. The following is the committee: R. L. Melcher, R. Algonon, Stevens, President, R. L. Melcher; Treas., Geo. Huse; Sec., H. C. Percival.

C. F. Whitman has been appointed Trial Justice by Gov. Cleaves. From July 1st, 1895 to July 1st, 1894, 318 tramps were lodged in the lockups of Norway, Bethel, Rumford, Canton and Paris.

Twenty-nine Years Ago This Week
The liquor agency was broken into one night recently. Just how much of its treasures were taken we have been unable to learn, but probably about three pints.

D. A. Coffin of Milton Plantation, has taken possession of the Maple House at West Paris. The Andover Toboggan Club of Andover met on Monday evening to choose officers for the ensuing year. It was voted to build a building for the storing of the toboggans. The chute is one hundred and forty feet long and has a rise of four inches to the foot.

The following is the committee: R. L. Melcher, R. Algonon, Stevens, President, R. L. Melcher; Treas., Geo. Huse; Sec., H. C. Percival.

Local Fans Can Accommodate Manager
Kilonis and Truman may come together here in the near future. The Norway sporting fraternity have talked the matter over and will arrange a wrestling match, if possible, meeting the conditions of W. F. Stairs, who is Truman's manager.

Kilonis is willing to wrestle the Norway man for a $50 purse, best two in three, winner take all. The $5 called "dissatisfied sporting fans" will make all arrangements, guarantee the reward and meet the expenses. All want to see the card played, and give Truman an opportunity to clinch the middleweight champion without risking a copper, if he is a better man.

The boys in the shoe factories and about town mean business and can produce Kilonis with no outside help. This matter is now put up directly to manager Stairs, who undoubtedly will be glad to accommodate the anxious ones and settle the question to the satisfaction of all.

Parlor War-Raised Pig Harvest
Walter Luck, butcher, has dressed Jas. C. True's pig and it weighed 298 pounds. Previous announcement in this paper was unfounded. The pig was seven months old and feed cost $30.50, add to purchase price of $5.50, makes total cost $36 and if sold for 20 cents per pound, Jim's visible profit is $23.60.

Scott Merrill recently killed two pigs which weighed 223 and 210. He brought them in the spring of Will Young.

Jim Walker's on "the Patch" weighed 272 pounds, Elden Morey's, Rumford road, weighed 275 pounds, Geo. Frost's exceeded 200 pounds, Eddie Gilmer's 230, Nate Dunham's 230, and Allie Buck's 178 is correctly reported.

The Talbot Mundy Pig Raising Corporation has not yet reported. Ward Spring on Deering Street has two and it is said there are six or eight more.

Sherman W. Merrill of Minot was the week end guest of his daughter, Mrs. Alton Merrill and family. Mr. Merrill is a native of Norway and lived in the north part of the town nearly fifteen years, moved to Albany, then went to Bethel Hill, where he resided several years and worked with his father, William Henry Merrill, in the Ebenezer Richardson mill for many years, landmark, corner High and Mechanic streets. About twenty-five years ago he settled in Norway and made shoes for a time then purchased a farm where he is now located.

Shaw and True are to play to a dance in the South Paris Grange Hall Saturday evening.

Rev. Robert J. Bruce occupied the Universalist pulpit Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. Chester G. Miller, was ill and unable to be present. Marie Newton of South Paris was soloist.

Arthur Hale has given up the chopping job with George Dunn and returned to the Novelty Turning Co.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Caswell of Harrison left Monday for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Caswell are frequent visitors in Norway, Mrs. Caswell being the niece of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt.

W. E. Gerald of Lancaster, Mass., a missionary volunteer worker, was in town Friday and Saturday, disposing of various religious pamphlets treating on the war and destruction of the world.

A copy of "Trench and Camp" a Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C.; edition of the Charlotte Observer, has reached us through the thoughtfulness of Eugene Desoretan, Medical Dept., 1st Vermont Infantry, stationed in that cantonment. It is an eight page sheet printed for the Y. M. C. A. containing interesting write-ups of camp happenings and general patriotic matters.

SICK WOMAN HAD CRYING SPELLS

Restored to Health by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Enbent, Pa.—"I was all run down and weak inwardly. I had female troubles and nervous feelings and my head bothered me. I would often have crying spells and feel as if I was not safe. If I heard anyone coming I would run and lock the door so they would not see me. I tried several doctors and they did not help me so I said to my mother 'I guess I will have to die as there is no help for me.' She got me one of your little books and my husband said I should try one bottle. I stopped the doctor's medicine and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It soon made a change in me and now I am strong and do all my work."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS BAUGHMAN, Box 86, Enbent, Pa.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you would like free confidential advice address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

FOOD VALUE OF CORN

The ability of corn to serve as a worthy substitute for wheat as a food is unquestioned according to food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Corn meal contains 1,613 calories of fuel value to the pound, as compared to 1,603 calories for wheat flour. A calorie, scientific as it may sound, is a true measure of food value. A batch of Johnny cake or corn bread contains more calories than a loaf of white bread of the same size.

Corn is practically as digestible as wheat flour, it is said, in spite of a common belief to the contrary. Experiments have shown that in a mixed diet 89 per cent of the protein and 99 per cent of the carbohydrates in corn-meal mush are digested. Of the corn-meal energy, 97 per cent is available for the body.

Many palatable dishes can be prepared from corn meal. Recipes for some of these are here presented. First comes corn-meal mush, which forms the basis for a great many other corn dishes. This is the way to make it:

Corn-Meal Mush

1 cup corn meal, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt. Boil salted water; add corn meal gradually and cook one hour. Mush can be served in a variety of ways. It can be served hot with milk; hot with syrup; hot with butter and sugar. It may be cooled, cut in slices, and fried, giving us the plain fried mush of the pioneers. Ground cooked meat may be added to the fried mush, or one-half cup of grated cheese, or one-half cup of tomato sauce, and one chopped sweet green pepper.

Wheat and Corn Bread (4 loaves)

It is difficult to make a yeast bread entirely out of corn meal, but combined with wheat flour a delicious bread can be made. The recipe is as follows: 2 1/2 cups corn meal, 3 1/2 cups cold water, 2 cakes compressed yeast, 2 cups lukewarm water, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons salt, 2 1/4 cups white flour, 3 tablespoons shortening.

Stir the corn meal into the cold water, bring to the boiling point and cook in double boiler 10 minutes. Cool; dissolve the compressed yeast cakes in the lukewarm water and add to corn-meal mush. Sift the sugar, salt and 1 cup of flour together, and stir into corn meal and yeast mixture. Beat thoroughly and set to rise at temperature between 80 and 88 degrees F. It should be light after two hours. Beat it thoroughly, add melted shortening, if desired, and add the remainder of the flour; knead thoroughly until smooth and elastic. Set to rise as before. When double in bulk, mold into four loaves, place in slightly greased and greased pans, cover and set to rise. When double in bulk bake in a steady oven (400 to 425 degrees F.) for 45 to 50 minutes.

Corn Meal and Rice Griddle Cakes

1/2 cup corn meal, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup cold boiled rice, 2 eggs. Mix the dry ingredients together; add sour milk and rice to beaten egg yolks; stir into the dry ingredients; fold in the beaten egg whites. Fry on hot griddle.

Corn Meal and Apple Pudding

1/2 cup corn meal, 1 quart milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 cup molasses, 2 cups apples, cored and cut in eighths. Scald the milk and add the corn meal; cook for 30 minutes and add the salt, ginger, and molasses. Pour in a buttered baking dish, bake for one hour stirring occasionally; add the apples and bake one hour longer without stirring. Serve with cream or pudding sauce.

Polenta

This dish, which is commonly used in Italy, differs little from "hasty pudding" or mush. Sometimes cheese is added during the cooking. Polenta is often reheated either with tomato sauce or a meat gravy left over from a meal or with a meat gravy made from a small amount of meat bought for the purpose. The dish is improved by sprinkling each layer of polenta with cheese. When the polenta is to be reheated in gravy, it is well to cut it into pieces in order to distribute the gravy well through the mass.

Fried Corn-Meal Mush

The custom of packing mush into pans, cutting into slices, and frying it is too common to call for special mention here. A less common method used in Italy is to spread the cold mush out in thin layers on a board and cut into small blocks. These are then egg and crumbed and fried in a deep fat.

Corn Meal and Pumpkin Pone

1 quart well-cooked pumpkin, 1 cup corn meal, 2 cups sweet milk, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon soda. Stir the corn meal into the hot pumpkin; then add milk, salt and sugar. Add enough more corn meal to make the mixture stiff enough so that it will hold its shape when dropped from a spoon. Then stir in soda (dissolved in boiling water). Bake an hour and a half or longer. The longer it bakes the sweeter it seems.

Cocunut Blanc Mange

1/4 cup cornstarch, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup cold water, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 3/4 cup shredded cocunut or other ground nuts, 1-8 teaspoon vanilla. Mix the cornstarch, sugar, and water together, add to the scalded milk; cook until thick, smooth, and glossy. Fold in the beaten egg whites and cocunut and flavor with vanilla. Chill in molds wet in cold water. Serve with cream or custard made with yolks of eggs.

Apple Souffle

4 tart apples, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon lemon, 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg, 3 eggs, sugar. Pare, core and cook apples; rub through a coarse sieve. Blend the flour and cornstarch in cold water; add the butter and salt and cornstarch mixture to boiling water; cook until thick, smooth, and glossy; add apple pulp, nutmeg, lemon juice, and sugar to sweeten. Remove from fire and add beaten egg yolks. Fold in beaten whites. Bake in moderate oven until firm and smooth.

SUMNER

W. E. Bowker has bought a pair of oxen of Gus Farrar of West Sumner. Myrtle Bowker who went to the C. M. G. Hospital a week ago for an operation for appendicitis, is getting along fine. Mr. Martin of Bridgton was at H. A. Sturtevant's, recently.

The friends of Frank Thompson were shocked to hear of his sudden death. The funeral was Friday at 10 o'clock. He leaves one brother and cousins to mourn their loss. Interment at East Sumner. The Morrill school reopened Dec. 10, with Mrs. Edith Barrett, teacher.

Christmas Bells

Will Soon Be Ringing

Our complete line of Holiday Goods for gentlemen is now on display, and we are prepared to assist our customers in making their selections. Our showing of neckwear, suspenders, mufflers, handkerchiefs, umbrellas, bath robes, shoes, suits and overcoats, gloves and mittens is, we believe, the best in the county, and represents the very newest ideas in haberdashery. We are doing a large holiday business, simply because at this time, as at other times during the year, we adhere strictly to popular prices. Take, for instance, our line of neckwear. We challenge any competition to produce anything that will excel them. We are disposed, if anything, to sell goods cheaper at the holiday season than the city stores. (Quality being considered.)

This Christmas

we ask the men of South Paris and vicinity not to take our store for a millinery parlor or a side-show to a corset shop. But, remember that it is a store that is patronized at this season of the year by more women than any men's and boys' furnishing store that we know of. WHY? Because we have just the gifts that will gladden the hearts of thousands of Husbands, Fathers, Brothers, Sons and Sweethearts.

Sensible Gifts

High prices and war conditions of course will necessarily lead the people throughout the country to make sensible gifts. Even the hearts of the little ones can be made happy on Christmas morning by such gifts as Shoes, Sleeping Garments, Mittens and a number of other useful articles of wearing apparel.

Many of our purchases will be packed in presentation boxes, and on request, will be packed for mailing by Parcel Post. Remember that we shall be pleased to serve you at this season and you need not look farther than RIGHT HERE for the best in the Christmas Market. Below we give a partial list of some very useful presents.

BOYS' SWEATERS	Skating and Sporting Sets for Ladies and Girls	MITTENS

A Few Suggestions

FOR YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Buy as soon as possible while stocks are full and there is plenty of time to make careful selections.

Here are a few suggestions for suitable gifts in this time of war and high prices. You will notice that useful things predominate.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Always suitable as gifts to either sex. Buy all you can this year while you can get pure linen. Next year, so the manufacturer tells us, pure linen handkerchiefs will be a thing of the past. We have a complete stock at only slightly higher prices than last year. Prices range from 3 cents to 59.

BEDDING.

We have blankets at prices from $1.19 to $4.50 for cotton, up to $8.00 for pure wool. Puffs from $2.00 up. These always make acceptable gifts and are sure to be appreciated.

NOVELTIES

Side combs and front combs, barrettes, beauty pins, army service pins, toilet articles, talcum powder, etc. at reasonable prices.

CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE

Pyrex baking dishes are very popular this year. They combine utility with beauty. A Pyrex Christmas set at $5.00 makes a gift to gladden the heart of any housewife.

Casseroles with holders or without are always acceptable.

Salad bowls, cake plates, cups and saucers, cream and sugar sets; mustard pots, cream bowls, button boxes, pin trays, etc. All at right prices would be sure to please.

Cut Glass. We have a fine assortment of both large and small pieces in beautiful patterns.

Come in and look over our stock whether you buy or not.

EAST STONEHAM

Mrs. J. Melvin Bartlett

Mrs. Howard, wife of J. Melvin Bartlett of East Stoneham, passed away Monday morning, Dec. 10, after a long period of failing health and general anæmia.

She was born in Waterford 44 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Green. In 1896 she graduated from Bridgton Academy and taught in the Waterford schools during three years following or until her marriage in 1899. Since then she has resided in Stoneham and been prominent in every movement to improve and uplift the community.

Mrs. Bartlett was a member of the Relief Corps at North Waterford and united with the Congregational church at East Stoneham soon after its organization. She has been an active worker in this society and deeply interested in every department of church work. Through her efforts as superintendent of the Sunday School that branch of practical christian endeavor has had a far reaching effect upon the young people and lasting good has been the result.

There were no children. She is survived by her husband, her mother and five sisters, Mrs. Sarah Walker, Mrs. Lida Johnson, Mrs. Edna Morse of Hanover and Mrs. Addie McAllister of Lovell. Also one brother, Irving Green of Waterford. The services were held at her late residence attended by Rev. Constantine Eliopoulos, assisted by Rev. R. J. Bruce of Norway. The brother, Irving Green, and J. Jason, Lovell and Wynan McAllister were the bearers. Burial in Hillside cemetery, East Stoneham.

Beautiful flowers in profusion testified in a fitting manner to the high esteem in which she was held, not only by those near at hand, but from neighboring towns where her influence for good had been exercised.

BROWNFIELD

Marston's Mills.

Wilbur Marston bought a pair of horses recently, of C. E. Hill, East Brownfield. Lawrence Hill and family of South Portland were recent guests with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hill.

Warren Dale of Wolfboro, N. H., is working for Wilbur Marston. Mabel Rounds has gone to Snowville, N. H., teaching school.

Glady's Ann of Pessacoway, N. H., is visiting her cousin, Lora Marston.

William Rounds and Charlie Bean are cutting birch for Hobson & Eaton. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry are living with Mrs. Juliette Cartland this winter. Mr. Perry is doing chores for Mr. Cartland.

Mrs. Bert Perry and son, Ralph, are recovering from an attack of measles. Don't despair not even if you have used the Intelligence Column and found it wanting. You may succeed the next time. Let your wants be known. Read the Intelligence ads wherever found.

HOMES OF THE FUTURE

If in the next few years this country does not show a much larger per cent of its families owning their own homes than at present, the reason will be that our people are losing their appreciation of the home and the pleasures of domesticity.

The present high prices in all lines, and more especially those of labor and farm products, are resulting in the common people of the land coming to more easy circumstances than ever before in our history. The man who has a little money is that country wherein the greatest per cent of its people own their own homes. The feel of one's own soil under one's feet imparts a sense of oneness with the things about us that nothing else can give. John Howard Payne touched a human chord that moved the world when he penned the immortal line, "There's no place like home."

There is absolutely no reason, unless it be disinclination, why thousands upon thousands of families that have heretofore been renters, should not now make an effort to own their homes. Real estate values are still very reasonable in many parts of the country, and nowhere are they as high as in many other lines. Then the risk is not great, as all indications point to a long period of the present high prices and strong demand for all the products of human labor. In former times many men were reluctant to assume property indebtedness, owing to the fact that none could tell at what time the bottom would drop out of the prosperity. But this fear has no force now. Even if the war were to end this year, conditions in Europe would demand all of our surplus for several years to come, and prices and demand would continue active.

The man who is making a surplus will be recreant to his duty to himself, to his family and to his country if he lets this opportunity pass to establish himself as one of the substantial permanent assets of his country—a home owner.

"Taken by the Large"

Lateness of planting, because of dry weather, and the shortness of the season, due to early frosts, curtailed production of many crops.

Final estimates announced by the department of agriculture show the great corn crop to have been damaged to the extent of about 32,000,000 bushels by frosts; nevertheless, corn production establishes a record this year, with 3,159,494,000 bushels, while its value, also a record, is $4,053,672,000.

The wheat crop shows a decrease of about 9,000,000 bushels from previous forecasts. This year's crop is estimated at 650,823,000 bushels and its value, at $848,372,000.

Oats is a record crop with 1,537,286,000 bushels and a value of $1,061,427,000. The potato crop is the largest ever grown with a total of 442,536,000 bushels, valued at $543,865,000.

Other crops whose production establishes records are sweet potatoes, beans, onions, cabbage and tobacco.

Time was when the small boy would run an errand for a few pennies, but now it takes nickels and dimes to induce him to cross the street for you. He demands three to five cents per minute for shoveling snow off the sidewalk and doesn't seem to relish work anyhow. Wonder what is the trouble? Wrong bringing up?

LOOKING BACKWARD
In Bolster's Mills
By Granville Fernald

Sometimes in the forties the name of the postoffice was "East Harrison" and William Twombly was appointed postmaster. Capt. Stuart and W. C. Barrows also served postmasters until the appointment of Wyatt Turner to that office. It was then that the postoffice acquired the name of Bolster's Mills. A former resident of the village, John Tobin, a cabinet maker, was accredited with giving the name "Bolster's" to the village, and other towns in the state have had localities by the same fanciful names.

On the site of the handsome residence of Dr. S. L. Weston, erected and occupied many years to the close of his life and by his daughter, Mrs. Alice M. Wilbur and family, and afterward and to the present time by the family of J. Colby Frost, stood the blacksmith shop of Stephen Waterhouse, who was a most industrious and prosperous citizen. His wife was Lydia, a daughter of Asa Hicks, who lived for many years in an old cottage still standing on the shore of Penesseewas Lake near the Norway corn shop. Mr. Hicks was an old soldier in the war of 1812, a man of massive proportions and strength whose sons and daughters were of the same tall and handsome appearance. Some of his grand children are residents of Harrison at the present time.

For many years there stood at the dam on the Harrison side, the large grist mill of Daniel Weston, next the carding mill of Freeman Fuller and close by the fulling and cloth-dressing works of William Bolster, all of which no vestige remains, except a solitary old building, only a part of the former cloth-dressing establishment. The store building at the bridge, the fine modern general and variety store of Daniel L. Gay, was erected and continued in the fifties by Moses Hancock and kept by him as a grocery and general store, and for some years as the village post office.

In the old cottage standing between the schoolhouse and the Masonic Hall, lived John Holmes many years after the year 1838. He was before he came to Pinhook, a member of the society of Shakers in Poland or New Gloucester, and was said to have been a ruling elder of that body. He was possessed of super-period mental gifts, was a good mathematician, a skilled mechanic and as a checker player, very hard to beat by the most astute players in the neighborhood. He kept "bachelor's hall" in a portion of the old house, which was a respectable curiosity shop cluttered with a variety of mechanical models, garden seeds, pieces of lumber and every imaginable thing a busy, ingenious man might gather about him in the course of years. Mr. Holmes was not a misanthrope, but was a genial kindly man and obliging neighbor. He was always ready and really glad to take a student in solving a problem in algebra, and did it with a smile. He delighted in having a beautiful garden with straight rows of onions and other vegetables, and his tall stalks of onion seed plants topped by their great seed pods in his "bachelor's hall" as I am penning this humble tribute to this venerable man so lonely in his life, but always a model gentleman in his demeanor as a citizen. In his declining years, when the burdens of his life became irksome, he became a member of a kind family in the village for his consideration of the transfer of his property to them in return for their care, protection and nursing in the times of his last ebbing life, and faithfully they were his trust fulfilled. This is the brief story of the good hearted Shaker man who lived in Bolster's Mills during the years of my boyhood there.

The house built by Stephen Waterhouse for the residence of his large family, was the home of most generous hospitality. It was a welcome goal for the itinerant Presiding elders of the Methodist church in their quarterly visits to the circuit, and I remember vividly the personalities of Elders Sanderson, Colby and others who presided over the interests of the Readfield District as it was then. The advent of the family of Isaac Stuart to the house was no different in its quality than the hospitality of the Shakers, distinguished for its scenes of merriment and rollicking gaiety when Stuart's Hall resounded with the mirth of the crowded assemblies of beautiful youths tripping in gay dances to the music of the violin, or when the occasional school outsiders, who were held there with displays of scholarly talent so pleasant to the memory of all who then participated. "Can we ever forget?"

The highway leading northward from the village square was from old time called the "Pinhook Road." When I first knew it there were but four dwelling houses above the Waterhouse residence, the present home of A. R. Clark and family. They were the Bolster house, now the Cook residence, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Skilling's family, the then little old Skilling's house occupied by Asa Hicks, Jr., afterward by John Lombard for many years till his death and which has since under the ownership of Horace Barrows, undergone many degrees of reconstruction and improvement to a modern time elegance and comfort as it is today.

The last house was that of "Uncle John Skilling's" as we all knew him, one of the most industrious, kindest, spryest, best natured men I ever knew. He was a general factotum for all kinds of jobs like making mortar for building a chimney or setting up a live leach for making soft soap, or white washing a room or what not. In his large kitchen the Wednesday evening prayer meetings and the monthly classmeetings were held and I remember distinctly the carefulness of Mr. Skilling to keep the fire in the kitchen fireplace constantly replenished with excellent fuel on the cold winter evenings, such demonstrations of care for the comfort of guests, even for an hour, was the invariable habit of Mr. Skilling to observe. That house in after years was the home of the family of Moses Hicks, now the handsome residence of Edward Hicks.

I remember when another house was erected in that line of cottages on the river side of the dam for the residence of Elder Stephen Hutchinson and wife. He was pastor of the Freeville Baptist Church in Harrison, preaching half the time, every other Sunday in the church at Bolster's Mills. It was soon after the death of Elder John Skilling that Dr. Horace A. Bowes, an "educated physician and mental gentleman" with versatile talents, a good singer and player of the cello. He was the inventor of some valuable botanic medical preparations, which were widely celebrated, but his forte as Artemus Ward would call it, was his passion for singing the grand old continental harmonies with accompaniment of his favorite instrument.

The chronicles of Harrison bear record of the Leander Dorman family who lived in the Dr. Barrows house since 1862 to the time when physical and mental disability compelled the aged and feeble parents to leave their home for the shelter of a kind daughter's care and love. And now the simple old cottage, under the ownership of George H. Cummings has been remodeled, reconstructed, repainted and redecorated and smiles at the passerby with a "guess you don't know me" expression. But I beg pardon; I recall the memory of an interesting and very worthy family who lived in a cottage right near the Cummings residence just mentioned. It was that of Joshua B. Stuart, who was settled there in 1840 and five of their eight sons and daughters were born there. Four of them were boys, including twins, Grinnell and Whitfield, whose birth was one of the sensations of that period. Mr. Stuart was a blacksmith, an ingenious workman and made the only pair of skates I ever owned. Why should I forget him and his family?

My church and school associations must not be lightly passed over. Of the lady teachers who taught in summer were Jane Phinney, daughter of Elder Joseph Phinney, of Harrison; Sophia and Susan Blake, daughters of Dr. Silas Blake, Esq. of Otisfield, daughter of Thomas Weston of Otisfield, M. Amanda Twitchell, daughter of a James Twitchell of West Bethel, and Ashiah Stuart, daughter of Joseph Stuart of Harrison, all well educated for their profession. Of the men teachers in winter were Amos Mann, a bright scholar, but eccentric man, who was afterward a doctor and noted for his favorite if not original prescription of "brimstone and molasses" for many of the prevalent human ailments of that day. Other male teachers in that decade were Asa P. Whitney of Bridgton, Darius Jordan of Otisfield, Edward G. C. and Ovington W. Hawkes of Mechanic Falls, William G. Green and Alpheus B. Lovell of Otisfield. I think Mr. Lovell was one of the best trained teachers of mathematics and English grammar of all my early teachers. He is remembered by many yet as being as a man of fine culture and eloquent preacher of the Maine Conference of the M. E. church.

In those days there were large congregations in attendance on the Sunday services in the new meeting house erected in 1841. There were, from 1839 for several years a succession of religious revivals, or "reformatorys," as they were called. Otisfield, Harrison and many surrounding towns participated in these spiritual visitations and numerous of the unconverted and indifferent ones were brought to the fold of the churches and became the most faithful in their christian relations I have ever known. Of these, many were quite young and some died in their early youth. Of the Methodist circuit preachers of that fourth decade, I remember Joseph Miliken, Caleb Jacobus, T. Gay, Swanton Rank, Leonard B. Green, E. K. Colby, Benjamin Foster, E. Gerry, and one by the name of True. Mr. Hopkins taught a winter term of school while there.

There were singing schools, first in the schoolhouse, afterward in the meeting house. My first introduction to music as an art was in a school taught by Stephen Gould of North Bridgton in 1840. He was a gentleman of fine literary and musical culture and his system of drill in vocal exercises made good readers and correct timists of his pupils who cared to learn how to sing in tune and time. Josiah M. Blake had the second singing school and was also a thorough teacher of rudiments and practical singing. The most notable series of singing schools for several years in Otisfield and Harrison was taught by Major Albert Cushman of Hebron. He was a masterful teacher and director and for a number of years was the leading promoter of popular musical culture in Harrison, Otisfield, Oxford, South Paris and other towns and also to hold stated musical reunions during the year, celebrated for good singing, good dinners and general good fellowship. Those means of musical education for the common people furnished trained singers for large, efficient choirs in every church and village, wide awake, singers were always on hand for any special chorus or other kind of performance.

I have not mentioned a certain institution that used to flourish during the winter season and tended to sharpen the wit and enable the wise men of the little community to settle the most important questions in morals, politics and science, then vexing the learned minds of the nation and the world at large. I refer to the Debating Club or Lyceum, as it was called. Two notable champions in the debate were Capt. Wentworth Stuart and William Fiske and there were others quite as opinionated and addicted to flights of oratory, of whom Charles E. Stuart was conspicuous. But that useful method of discussion of the great problems of the times gradually went into desuetude as one of our great presidents describes it when something is found of no further use and decided to be "no good."

I have referred to the stirring events in the religious world in old reformation days. A full picture of the inseparable incidents connected with those awakenings must include the unique hymns by which, some of the hymnologists of the times sought to incite the impatient to embrace a religious life and inflame the spiritual man with desire for preparation for the great final event of human life. Some of these sacred poems were suggestive of the most interesting events of the Bible history and were no doubt very effective in promoting that object. For instance there was one hymn which employed the thrilling experiences of some of the prophets like this:

Where now is good old Elijah?
Where now is good old Elijah?
Where now is good old Elijah?
Safe in the Promised Land,
He went up in a chariot of fire,
He went up in a chariot of fire,
Safe in the Promised Land.

The story of Daniel and other of the Prophets of old were poetized in a similar manner by revival hymn writers.

The foregoing sketch of my reminiscences of life in the village at Bolster's Mills from 1838 to 1859, was written in 1914 while occupying a guest chamber of A. P. Bassett's home in Norway's Mills. The motive of telling my village would be to look 80 years ago and of some of the village residents of those days. In thinking back to the earliest years of my living at Pinhook, my reflections are absorbed by the memory of the common social events of a rural neighborhood, the winter evening parties where we boys and girls used to play "Marching down to old Quebec," "Come Philanders, let us be a marching" and many other games that involved the paying of pawns, kissing of course, or in summer fishing in Crooked River and swimming or picking berries. I hope my notes on Bolster's Mills in the past may be as interesting to the reader as to the writer.

A STUDY FOR CHRISTMAS

STOP WASTE OF COAL

You simply can't afford to waste coal now. It's too hard to get, and too costly when you get it. The difference between saving and waste lies in the

STOVE

Come in and let us show you a stove that will save you from one-third to one-half of your fuel. Our stoves are as far ahead of the old fuel-eaters you have been used to, as they were ahead of the old fireplace of our fathers. Our Stoves get ALL the heat from your fuel, and liberate it in your room.
